THE HOLLOWAYS/Human and Civil Rights AWARD

The Holloways/Human and Civil Rights Award is presented to an individual OEA member for outstanding contributions to the promotion or execution of excellent human relations skills and interpersonal relationships as modeled by example.

Background Information

The Holloways' commitment to the education profession and exemplary human relations skills is evidenced by a total of 75-plus years of dedicated service and numerous contributions to the profession. As ambassadors for the profession, not only across the state of Ohio and the nation, but around the world as well, they provided leadership at 30 OEA Representative Assemblies, 29 NEA Representative Assemblies, 9 WCOTP World Assemblies, and 8 years of service to the OEA Human and Civil Rights Commission (formerly called the Human Relations Commission).

Criteria

To be eligible, an individual OEA member must have:

- Made outstanding contributions in the promotion or execution of human relations and interpersonal relationships.
- Promoted educational equality.
- Worked to improve intergroup relations.
- Been identified and recognized for these human relations activities by the community.
- Established cooperative working relationships with other groups concerned with education.
- Worked actively within a community to improve opportunities for all.
- Provided dedicated service to the profession.
- Worked to further appreciation of ethnic heritage.
- Designed and initiated programs to identify and encourage the use of effective multi-cultural education materials.
