House Joint Resolution 6: Opposition Testimony

House Government Oversight Committee

Wednesday, December 7, 2022

Chair Wilkin, Vice Chair Swearingen, Ranking Member Brown, and Members of the Committee:

My name is Scott DiMauro. I am a high school government teacher from Worthington, and I am proud to serve as the President of the Ohio Education Association. On behalf of the 120,000 members of OEA, thank you for the opportunity to testify in opposition to House Joint Resolution 6 (HJR 6).

Majority rule is a basic tenant of our democracy. However, HJR 6 seeks to weaken the voice of Ohio voters by making it much more difficult to pass citizen-led initiatives—by requiring 60% of the vote rather than a simple majority to amend the Constitution.

For over 100 years, Ohioans have had the ability to amend the Constitution through a citizen-led initiative. Utilizing direct democracy in this manner is a tool for Ohio voters to address important issues when the legislature is either unable or unwilling to do so.

The existing process is far from easy; requiring hundreds of thousands of signatures from across the state to qualify for the ballot. Furthermore, there is already a prohibition from special interests using the Constitution to create a monopoly, business interest, or preferred tax status. Raising the threshold for passing an amendment aims to make it harder for the citizens to have an effective voice and address issues that benefit the public interest.

This past Saturday, the over 600 delegates to the OEA Representative Assembly passed a new business item in opposition to House Joint Resolution 6. OEA is among a large, diverse, and continually growing list of organizations who have expressed opposition to this proposal.

I urge members of this committee to reject this proposal. Vote no on HJR 6. The voters of Ohio should be our ultimate decision makers, and when the majority speaks at the ballot box, our elected officials need to listen.

Thank you for your time and attention. I am happy to respond to questions.
